Course Description: This course focuses on effective project implementation with an emphasis on sustainability and monitoring. It equips participants with practical approaches to ensure projects deliver lasting benefits and remain on track throughout the implementation phase.

Who should attend? Project managers, programme officers, monitoring and evaluation staff, and development practitioners responsible for implementing or overseeing projects.

Course objectives: On completion, you will be able to:

- Integrate sustainability principles into project implementation
- Design and use simple monitoring frameworks and indicators
- Track progress and address implementation challenges early
- Support learning and accountability through regular monitoring

Prerequisites: Participants should have basic knowledge of development projects or prior experience in project implementation. No specialised monitoring background is required.
